

TRANSFORMING COMMUNITIES THROUGH PHILANTHROPIC LEADERSHIP

TOCQUEVILLE SOCIETY

Tocqueville Society is comprised of our most generous and community-minded philanthropists: the individuals and families who annually contribute $10,000 or more to our community through United Way. In honor of United Way's 90th anniversary, a few exceptional members contributed $90,000 this year. We thank all these community leaders for their dedication to building a thriving community.

WHO WE ARE

The Tocqueville Society is named in honor of Alexis de Tocqueville and his admiration for the spirit of American volunteerism and its effect on the common good. United Way of Greater Portland's Tocqueville Society was established in 1993 by Elaine Rosen, Lisa and Leon Gorman, and a few other caring leaders in our community who were committed to ensuring the education, financial stability, and health of Cumberland County.

TOCQUEVILLE SOCIETY AIMS TO

- Change lives through philanthropic leadership by driving community-level change focused on the building blocks for a better life: education, financial stability, and health.
- Champion the vital role of personal philanthropic action in addressing the underlying causes of societal problems.
- Encourage philanthropic action and volunteer service with other.

“We are strong believers in giving time, talent, and treasure to support our community. We also know how efficiently and effectively United Way of Greater Portland supports our community. We are making a 90th Anniversary gift to United Way who will invest those resources in the best possible way. As business and community leaders, we hope our passion and commitment will inspire others to get involved because every action, every dollar matters.” - Helaine & Jon Ayers
